

DEPARTMENT OF HUMANITIES AND SCIENCES

Name of Event: Parent–Teacher Meeting

Date: 15 November 2025

Venue: Room No: A209, A205, A210

Organized by: Department of H&S

Objective of the Activity

- To establish effective communication between parents and faculty regarding students' academic progress and overall development.
- To inform parents about academic regulations, attendance, and assessment performance.
- To obtain parental feedback for continuous improvement.

Description of the Activity

The Parent–Teacher Meeting was conducted on 15 November 2025 at CMR Engineering College to facilitate meaningful interaction between parents and faculty members. Class teachers presented students' academic performance, attendance status, and internal assessment outcomes. Parents were informed about institutional academic policies, evaluation procedures, and expectations related to discipline and professionalism.

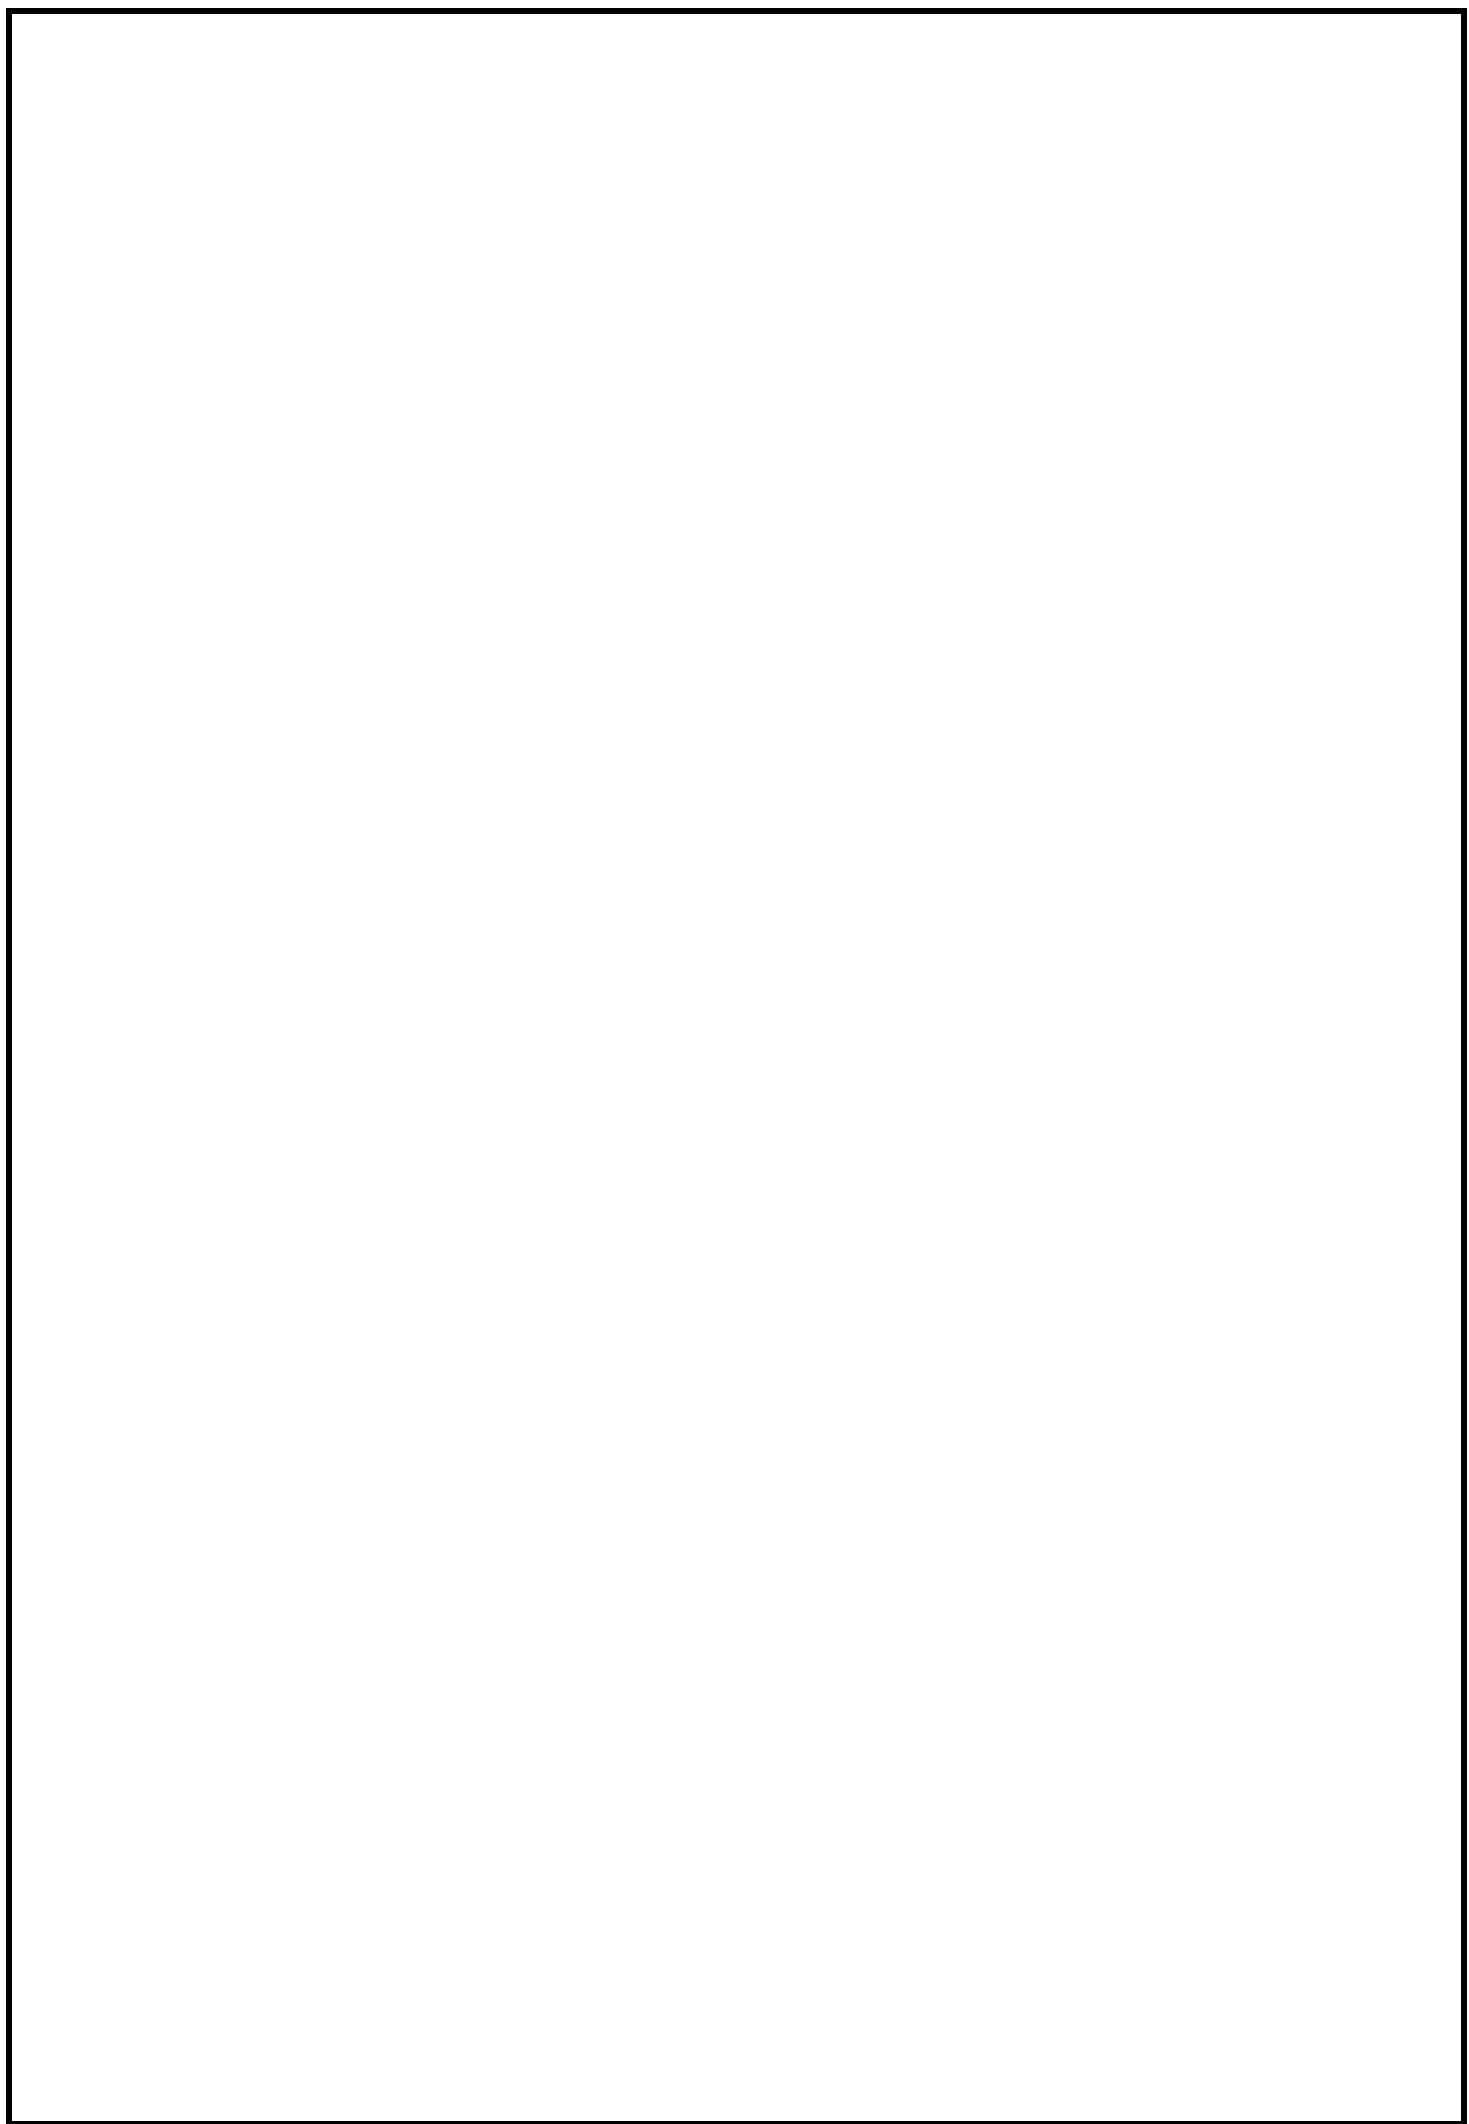

Individual interactions enabled faculty members to provide personalized feedback and academic guidance. Emphasis was laid on regular attendance, improved academic engagement, and participation in co-curricular and skill-development activities. Parents shared constructive feedback, which was duly noted for further action.

Outcome of the Activity

- Enhanced parent–teacher collaboration.
- Improved awareness among parents regarding students' academic performance.
- Identification of students requiring additional academic support.
- Positive feedback received for institutional mentoring practices.

Conclusion

The Parent–Teacher Meeting served as an effective platform to strengthen academic monitoring and student support mechanisms. The interaction reinforced the institution's commitment to transparency, quality education, and continuous improvement in student performance.
